

A MEMORIAL TO WASHINGTON

Monument Commemorates His Crossing of Delaware.

By United Press.
TRENTON, N. J., Sept. 26.—Thousands of members of the Patriotic Order of the Sons of America representing all sections of the country today took part in dedicating the monument commemorative of Washington's famous crossing of the Delaware. The dedication was the closing feature of the convention of the Order which has been in session here since Tuesday. The convention marked the twenty-fifth anniversary of the organization of the New Jersey State Camp, the twenty-sixth anniversary of the founding of the Order, and the twenty-second anniversary of the founding of the Commandery General or Uniformed Rank. The monument stands on the spot, eight miles from here, where Washington and his Colonels landed just before the battle of Trenton in 1776. The land about the monument has been set aside as a park.

U. S. HELPS FIGHT MOSQUITOS

Public Health Service Combatting Malaria in South.

By United Press.
WASHINGTON, Sept. 26.—With two of its most eminent sanitary experts—battle scarred veterans of a hundred wars against disease—already in the field, the United States Public Health Service is today engaged in the most scientific engagement since inception of the war against the hated mosquito and its child, malaria. Other experts are held in readiness and the service is listening with hand to ear prepared to invade the mosquito ridden sections of the country as it has already done in the cases of calls for assistance from the health authorities of North Carolina, Alabama and Mississippi.

The cotton mill sections of these states are in the grasp of malaria epidemics unprecedented. Unable to handle the situations themselves the state health officers appealed to the Public Health Service.

SETTLEMENT WORKERS MEET

Discuss Jane Addams' Hull House and Other Subjects.

By United Press.
VALENCIA, Pa., Sept. 26.—Ann F. Davies, of the College Settlement of Philadelphia, opened today's discussions of the National Conference of the National Federation of Settlements which closes this afternoon. "The Network of Neighborhood Relations," was the main topic subdivided under the following heads: "System in Visiting," "Vocational Direction," Bertha Stevens, of the Alta Settlement House, of Cleveland, was scheduled to speak. Following the discussions Miss Jane Addams, of Hull House, Chicago, took charge of a memorial meeting to Samuel A. Barnett, founder of Toynebee Hall.

Subjects discussed at this afternoon's session were: "Phases of Settlement Work Assumed by City, State and Nation, and the Continuous Responsibility of the Settlement to Them;" "Next Steps in Settlement Pioneering." The afternoon discussions were opened by Mrs. Vladimir Simkhovitch, Greenwich House, New York City; Charles C. Cooper, Kingsley House, Pittsburgh, and Julia C. Lathrop, director of the National Children's Bureau.

M. I. GIRLS SEEK WORK TO DO

Y. W. C. A. Employment Bureau on Lookout for Places.

Do you want your socks darned? If you do apply to Miss Marguerite Jackson, secretary of the Employment Bureau of the Y. W. C. A. Miss Jackson was officially appointed to take charge of this work last spring. She is very anxious to make the Bureau a success. Every University woman who wants work and everyone who has work to be done is urged to communicate with the secretary. Thirteen girls have already been placed. Two are doing canvassing, two clerical work, and nine house work.

Twenty-one applications are on file for places to do plain sewing, mending, clerical work, typewriting, catering, place cards, tally cards, and care for children. Some of the girls are entirely dependent on what they make here. Most of them want to add to their incomes. Five women have applied to the bureau for help in the home. One clerical position is open.

Miss Jackson's office hour is from 8 o'clock to 9 o'clock in the morning. An appointment may be made at any time. Some one is always at the Y. W. C. A. desk to take a message.

BEGIN WORK FOR LINCOLN ROAD

Five Hundred Enthusiasts Would Have Cross-Continental Highway.

By United Press.
LINCOLN, Neb., Sept. 26.—Half a thousand good roads enthusiasts, including the governors of five states—Illinois, Iowa, Colorado, Utah and Nebraska—have assembled here to adopt a program and take preliminary steps for the establishment of an ocean to ocean highway as a memorial to Abraham Lincoln. With co-operation expected from state and federal governments, and persistent work, it was declared today that the coast to coast roadway would be ready for traffic, if not wholly completed, by the time the Panama-Pacific Exposition opens at San Francisco in 1915. The congress will be in session for two days. Governor John H. Morehead, of Nebraska, an ardent good roads enthusiast, today strongly urged the co-operation of all governors.

The aim of the Lincoln Memorial Association is a highway, as smooth as a city street, and as durable as any highway constructed to stretch from New York City to San Francisco. That portion of the proposed highway between Chicago and Salt Lake City, Utah, will be the immediate concern of the conference which opened today. The plan under consideration, and which it was thought would be unanimously adopted, will be to utilize existing overland routes after repairing them and joining them into one highway that would be the longest in the world. Local communities along the road will contribute and contributions already have been received from scores of individuals, some of them living far from the proposed "pathway."

OKLAHOMANS HERE THIS YEAR

Their "State House" Is at 907 Lowry Street.

At the Commons there is an Oklahoma table and at 907 Lowry there is an Oklahoma house.

Oklahoma is always well represented at the University. Last year that state sent thirty-two. Twelve of the boys from Oklahoma, who eat at the Commons, organized a table at which no one but Oklahomans are allowed to eat.

After organizing the state table the Oklahoma boys decided to have a state house. At 907 Lowry they found room for seven boys so they at once engaged the entire house. Those staying at 907 Lowry are: C. C. Porter, E. R. DeWeese, F. W. Floyd, C. P. Talbot, B. McWilliams, H. Payne and John M. Carter.

FARMERS STUDY MOTORS NOW

In College of Agriculture Attention Is Given to Gasoline Engines.

The College of Agriculture of the University is offering a new course this semester. It is called Construction Methods, and undertakes the making of concrete posts and tiles, farm buildings, including planning and the carpenter work. M. A. R. Kelley, instructor in farm engineering has charge of the work.

The old course in Farm Engineering in the College of Agriculture has been changed to Farm Machinery and Motors. It now covers five hours instead of three. The change was made so that more time could be made in studying the gasoline engine.

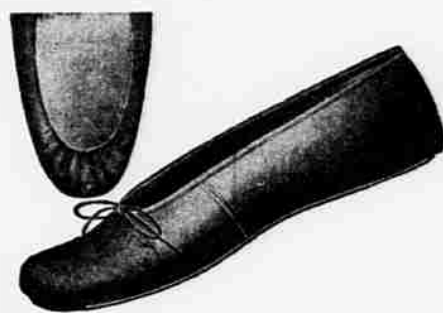

Next semester a new course, Farm Engineering, will be given. It will consist of farm drainage and surveying. The title is the same as the old course which dealt with farm machinery, but the work is different.
